400 SERIES SNARE DRUM STAND

Students and beginners are normally with a low budget, but they still need a solid hardware to practice with. It's worthless to buy a cheap stand which is unstable, difficult to adjust or get rusted in a few weeks. With this concept in mind, Peace developed hardware series 400 and 500 which are suitable for students and beginners. Sturdy enough for home or rehearsal use, they are built with the same principles of stability and performance of the higher models without breaking your budget.
