15W HYBRID-ANALOG GUITAR AMP WITH BLUETOOTH

The Frontline 15W is a zero-compromise 15-watt guitar amp built for everyday playing. An 8-inch custom-voiced speaker and an original hybrid-analog circuit give you the warmth and touch response you would expect from something much bigger. It stays clear at low volume and fills your room when cranked. Plug straight in, or use it as a clean, high-headroom canvas for your whole pedalboard – from the first chord of the morning to late-night headphone practice, one amp covers it.

HIGHLIGHTS

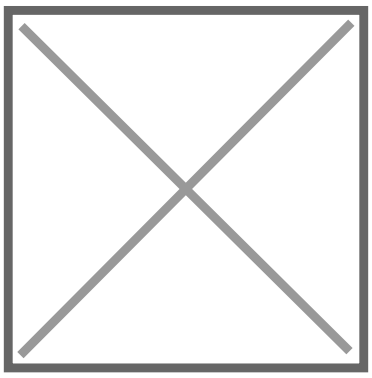

HYBRID-ANALOG CIRCUIT

The Frontline 15W runs an original hybrid-analog preamp – not a digital model of one. It responds to your pick attack and guitar volume knob the way a good amp should. Roll the volume back and it cleans up; dig in and it pushes.

GLASSY CLEAN. DRIVEN OVERDRIVE

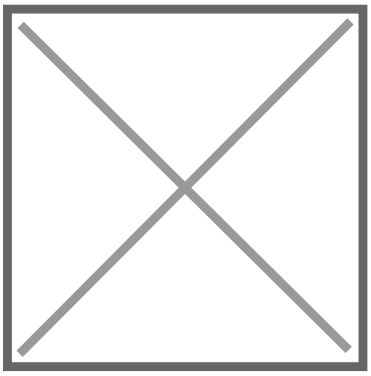

Most practice amps at this price give you one channel and hope you like it. The Frontline 15W gives you two – a glassy clean and a driven overdrive – switched from a single panel button. No menus, no second pedal, no reaching around the back. Shared Bass, Middle and Treble EQ keeps both sounds dialled in.

CUSTOM 8" SPEAKER

NUX did not borrow a driver off a shelf. The custom 8? speaker is tuned specifically for this circuit – clear on top, warm underneath – so single notes stay articulate and full chords still cut through.

BUILT IN FXS

Reverb and delay cover most of what a guitarist reaches for. Both are onboard, each with an adjustable decay or time control, giving your sound space and depth without putting a single pedal on the floor.

PRACTICE WITHOUT LIMITS

Plug in headphones and the speaker mutes automatically for silent practice at any hour. Feed a phone into the 3.5 mm AUX input, or use the included NBT-1 Bluetooth module through the USB-C port, and jam along to anything.
