

DR-20

DRUM RACK WITH CURVED STYLE STRUCTURE

Drum rack are useful for drummers with medium to big size drumkits. This solution has several advantages. The rack can hold several shells, cymbals and other accessories in less space and it's convenient to add or remove components. Furthermore it's possible to lock the positions and keep memory when mounting or unmounting the drumkit. Finally with a rack the total hardware amount to carry is reduced. Peace provide different solution to fit any needs, including the relative accessories and all built with high quality materials. The DR-20 has a curved ergonomic structure to reduce the distance between the drummer and the rack. Featuring T-style leg system for improved stability and curved central tube to reduce to total space. Two additional side arms are curved, allowing to enlarge your drumkit without the need of ground support.

PRODUCT DETAILS

KEY FEATURES

Ultra robust drum rack with curved structure to reduce the distance between the rack and the drummer

T style legs for improved stability

Curved central tube for reduced width allow to keep everything within reach

Coming with four clamps and two cymbal holders

Two curved side arms reduce the total size and avoid the necessity of ground support.

Chrome finish